

2013 MWMC Carl Weber Award – Paul Kazyak

Paul was a tireless champion and implementer of the Maryland Biological Stream Survey. His dedication to quality assurance helped elevate the program nationally and deserves special attention. He then dedicated himself to effecting change through the Highlands Action Plan.

Paul has been a tireless advocate for involving all residents of Maryland in the stewardship of Maryland waters, ranging from scientists to citizens to decision-makers. He helped expand the MBSS family and made the Highlands Action Plan as inclusive as possible.

Paul spent much of his time on volunteer activities including many years of Venturing with Boy Scouts and Envirothon competition. Paul has been dedicated and worked tirelessly as a champion of water monitoring to make a difference.
